

BLANCHARD MANAGEMENT ESSENTIALS

VIRTUAL TRAINING

Blanchard International Serbia invites you to participate in a unique training experience by applying to virtual workshop “Blanchard Management Essentials”. The training will be divided in 3 sessions lasting 2 hours.

To become manager or supervisor for the first time is one of the most challenging and the biggest changes in the career. New managers are often chosen, among employees with best performances. These highly efficient individuals quickly become struggling new managers, without the methods or skills needed to succeed.

The “Blanchard Management Essentials” workshop helps first-time managers overcome this challenge by showing them the essential skills to get them off to a great start. Participants will go through Four Core Conversations types and learn coaching skills which are necessary in order to build the positive relations in their teams

Participants will:

Identify the change in the new mind-set required for making the transition from individual contributor to manager

Learn the Four Core Conversations based on the secrets of The New One Minute Manager book Gain skills needed to boost relationships and work well with others based on our time-tested coaching model Practice the Essential Skills and the Four Core Conversations using real-work situations.

To whom it is addressed:

To all of the people who are considering the change to manager or already are in that role.

The size of the group::

10 participant maximum.

Fee:

280 EUR + VAT per person

How to apply?

Please send participation form to info@blanchard.rs. You can contact us for any further information on phone numbers: +381 11 3752 426 or +381 65 210 75 02.

Additional information:

If you are interested, we can provide in-house training for your company, both in Serbian or English and it's also possible to arrange coaching session separately, after the workshop.